

Master of Science in Regulatory Affairs for Drugs, Biologics, and Medical Devices
Suggested Course Sequence* – Version 1[^]

Academic Year 2011-2012

Yr	Qtr	Course	Quarter Hours
Year 1	Qtr 1	RGA 6100 Introduction to Drug and Medical Device Regulation ¹	4 q.h.
		BTC 6210 Human Experimentation: Methodological Issues Fundamental to Clinical Trials ¹	4 q.h.
	Qtr 2	RGA 6201 New Drug Development: A QA Regulatory Overview ¹	4 q.h.
		RGA 6202 Medical Device Development: A QA Regulatory Overview ¹	4 q.h.
Qtr 3	RGA 6200 Biologics Development: A QA Regulatory Overview ¹ Business and Law Elective ² (Elective 1 of 4)	4 q.h. 4 q.h.
Qtr 4	RGA 6203 Food, Drug, and Medical Device Law: Topics and Cases ¹ Safety and Surveillance Elective ² (Elective 2 of 4)	4 q.h. 4 q.h.
Year 2	Qtr 1	Development and Marketing Elective ² (Elective 3 of 4) Open Elective ³ (Elective 4 of 4)	4 q.h. 4 q.h.

This is a suggested course sequence in which students may complete their degree program and understand the typical availability of selected courses. Students may choose to follow the suggested sequence or to choose their own, as long as their sequence satisfies the program's requirements and complies with rules that govern their studies. Northeastern University reserves the right to make adjustments to each course sequence at any time. All students are strongly encouraged to consult with their designated academic and student support specialist to develop their individualized academic course plan.*

[^]Completion of RGA 6280 "Advanced Writing on Biomedical Topics" may be required of students as a condition for their continued enrollment in this program. If you are required to take RGA 6280, please reference the version 2 of the course sequence, featured on the next page.

¹This course is offered every term both online and on-ground.

²At least one course within this elective group is offered online and on-ground each term. Individual selection varies.

³At least one course within this elective group is offered online and on-ground each term. Individual selection varies. If a student elects to take COP 6940 "Personal and Career Development: Leadership in Practice," as their open elective they must participate in the cooperative education program (subject to availability) and they must also take RGA 6920 (1 q.h.) to meet the 4 q.h. open elective course requirement

Master of Science in Regulatory Affairs for Drugs, Biologics, and Medical Devices
Suggested Course Sequence* – Version 2[^]

Academic Year 2011-2012

Yr	Qtr	Course	Quarter Hours
Year 1	Qtr 1	RGA 6100 Introduction to Drug and Medical Device Regulation ¹	4 q.h.
		RGA 6280 Advanced Writing on Biomedical Topics ^{1,2} (Elective 1 of 4)	4 q.h.
	Qtr 2	BTC 6210 Human Experimentation: Methodological Issues Fundamental to Clinical Trials ¹	4 q.h.
		RGA 6201 New Drug Development: A QA Regulatory Overview ¹	4 q.h.
Qtr 3	RGA 6202 Medical Device Development: A QA Regulatory Overview ¹	4 q.h.
	RGA 6200 Biologics Development: A QA Regulatory Overview ¹	4 q.h.
Qtr 4	RGA 6203 Food, Drug, and Medical Device Law: Topics and Cases ¹ Business and Law Elective ³ (Elective 2 of 4)	4 q.h. 4 q.h.
Year 2	Qtr 1	Safety and Surveillance Elective ³ (Elective 3 of 4) Open Elective ⁴ (Elective 4 of 4)	4 q.h. 4 q.h.

This is a suggested course sequence in which students may complete their degree program and understand the typical availability of selected courses. Students may choose to follow the suggested sequence or to choose their own, as long as their sequence satisfies the program's requirements and complies with rules that govern their studies. Northeastern University reserves the right to make adjustments to each course sequence at any time. All students are strongly encouraged to consult with their designated academic and student support specialist to develop their individualized academic course plan.*

[^]Completion of RGA 6280 "Advanced Writing on Biomedical Topics" may be required of students as a condition for their continued enrollment in this program. This course sequence accounts for this students required to take RGA 6280.

¹This course is offered every term both online and on-ground.

²This course will count towards your Development and Marketing elective requirement

³At least one course within this elective group is offered online and on-ground each term. Individual selection varies.

⁴At least one course within this elective group is offered online and on-ground each term. Individual selection varies. If a student elects to take COP 6940 "Personal and Career Development: Leadership in Practice," as their open elective they must participate in the cooperative education program (subject to availability) and they must also take RGA 6920 (1 q.h.) to meet the 4 q.h. open elective course requirement.